

Champion : 6A Cheng Man Hei, Max 鄭民曦

My classmates and I went on a school picnic yesterday. We went to a country park. However, something unexpected happened.

It was sunny yesterday. We arrived at the country park in the morning. We took a photo first. Then we started playing. Some of us were playing badminton and some were chatting. John put away the camera and he started preparing for the barbecue.

At this moment, a monkey sneaked behind the tree and stole the camera when we didn't notice it. The monkey ran away as quickly as a flash. Luckily, I saw it. Therefore, I ran after it. It turned around and ran even quicker. I followed it. It then climbed up a tree. All of us noticed it and shouted loudly, 'Hey! Give the camera back!' The monkey seemed that it didn't understand what we were saying, so I pointed at the camera and asked kindly, 'Can you please give that thing to us?' The monkey scratched its head and threw the camera to us. It jumped down then. We took a photo with the monkey in the end. It even had a barbecue with us, too!

Although it sounded really weird, the monkey and I became friends! I hope that I can meet that monkey once again.

1st runner-up : 6A Wang Ziyin, Yami 王梓因

I went on a school picnic in a country park yesterday. I went there with my classmates and teachers.

When we arrived at the park, I saw the beautiful view. Therefore, I used the camera to take photos of the fantastic view. My classmates were playing badminton and chatting. Everyone was joyful.

After a while, I felt hungry so I went to eat some snacks. Therefore, I put the camera on the table. Suddenly, a monkey came and took my camera away! I felt so surprised! I followed the monkey. It climbed on a tree and made a funny face to us. I felt angry and shouted, 'You naughty monkey! Give my camera back!' It took some photos himself. Next, he threw the camera away.

Finally, I got the camera happily. However, my camera was broken! I was very upset.

2nd runner-up : 6A Chan Chi Yin, Selene 陳姿言

Yesterday, my classmates, teachers and I went on a picnic at a campsite which is in Sai Kung.

When we arrived at the campsite, we started to have our free time. Some were playing badminton while some were taking photos and sitting on the grass chatting.

After that, we had our lunch. We found a nice place and sat down. Then we started to have lunch. However, there was a monkey stealing our camera secretly. Then, we found out that our camera was lost. We looked for it everywhere. Next we noticed a monkey on a tree holding our camera and making a funny face to us. We were angry and shouted, 'You smelly monkey. You'd better return the camera to us as soon as you can!'

Finally, we called our teacher and the monkey was afraid. It climbed down and returned our camera to us. We became friends finally. Before we left the campsite, we took a photo with the monkey. What an amazing day!
